Report of Superintendent of Schools

Schools opened on the 8th of September with each of the teachers returning to her respective school. This permanency, in teachers is very fortunate for the schools of Springfield. It tends to make the instruction more stable and the pupils will be the gainers.

It was also the good fortune of the members of the eighth grade at the Center to be able to finish their elementary schooling with the teacher they have had for several years. This large group is a very interesting one and is quite unusual in that it is so large. I hope that they may be able to continue on to high school.

I feel that the instruction the Springfield children are receiving is of a high order and that the towns-people should feel very proud of its schools. Everything is being done to maintain this standard. The people have been very generous in the raising of money to support the schools. The committee is alert to the needs of the children and is anxious to keep them supplied with books that are up to date.

Much is being done with music at the Center. The children enjoy this and it is time well spent.

The re-arrangement of the windows at the Maxfield school is a decided improvement. Sometime, I hope that entrance to the shed can be direct from the school room.

Some money should be raised to make repairs on the boys' toilet at the Center. These do not seem to be in keeping with the rest of the building. I am quite sure the necessary alterations can be made at a small outlay of money.

I want to thank everyone for standing behind the committee in its efforts to make the schools of the district good. It is the right of every boy and girl in the State to a good education and the children in Springfield have as much right to it as anyone.

EARL P. FREESE, Superintendent.
